

NOT SURE WHAT TO DO WITH 400 MILLION FUND

Harding Wants to Use Alien Enemy Property to Estab- lish German Credit.

BANKERS DOUBT WISDOM Believe Money Should Be Re- turned to Germany to Be Used as It Pleases.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921

Washington.—President-elect Harding has given his tentative approval to what may amount to a billion dollar credit to Germany and thus enable the people of Central Europe to buy American goods and products of which they are in serious need.

The plan as outlined to Mr. Harding by New York bankers contemplates the use of the securities held in the United States by the alien property custodian in behalf of German citizens. This is estimated to amount to at least $400,000,000, because the remainder of what the alien property custodian has really belongs to citizens of Austria, Poland and Czechoslovakia, and under an amendment to the Trading With the Enemy act passed by Congress the property of those citizens must be returned to them when they claim it.

It is possible, of course, with four hundred million dollars placed as assets in a single corporation to raise other funds for credit purposes either through Americans or Germans interested in the financing of a huge export project of this kind but inquiry here discloses the fact that if the proponents of the idea had the notion that a billion dollars of securities were available for the German credit, such is not the case.

Congress May Object

Broadly speaking, the approval by Mr. Harding of the plan does not altogether assure its adoption for an act of congress will be required before the alien property custodian can release any of the securities or property which it now holds. All the cash belonging to Germans in the United States treasury and by law cannot be invested in anything else but Liberty bonds.

The plan, moreover, would require an agreement with the German government whereby the owners of the property would permit the Berlin government to use the securities in the United States as a basis of credit and would renounce all claims against the American government in connection with the new enterprise.

It cannot be said that banking opinion is altogether unanimous as to the wisdom of the scheme for some authorities claim it would be wiser to turn back the four hundred million dollars to the real owners and let the Germans do with it as they please, the theory being that the Germans will perhaps find the most effective way to invest their own securities so that trade will be revived. There is also the suggestion that if the German owners get their assets back they may be in a position to borrow funds elsewhere to pay American firms to whom they already owe large sums of money and stimulate trade that way before engaging in new purchases.

While American merchants are eagerly for foreign markets, they are obviously not anxious to sell to customers that have not or will not pay. The whole question as to what shall be done with the German property in the United States can be settled alone by congress. The office of the alien property custodian is simply a huge trust company which has held the goods for disposition by congress. It is probable that the next secretary of state, Mr. Hughes, will weave the matter into the commercial treaty between the United States and Germany whereby it is intended to dispose of all questions between the United States and Germany growing out of the war without taking over any of the obligations of the treaty of Versailles.

CONGRESS IS ON HOME STRETCH OF SESSION

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Congress turned into the home stretch Monday.

While the house tackled conference reports on several measures the senate faced the danger of a controversy which may seriously delay final action on the navy bill, the emergency tariff and other measures.

Senator Borah was to move to take up the house resolution repealing war laws. Democrats may oppose him.

Senator Penrose wanted action on the Fordney emergency tariff bill. Democrats want to talk about it though they promised to not delay the vote beyond this afternoon.

NEW BUSINESS MANAGER NAMED FOR MARQUETTE

Milwaukee.—Dr. Henry L. Banzhaf, dean of the college of dentistry of Marquette university, has been appointed business manager of the university, according to an announcement made Monday by Father Noonan, president of Marquette. He will be in full charge of the financial and building programs of the university.

Dr. Banzhaf began the practice of dentistry in Manitowoc when he was 21 years old. After practicing there for 16 years, he came to Milwaukee where he has practiced for 13 years.

Supreme Court Rules Farm

BIG BOON TO FARMERS

Congress Was Within Its Rights
When It Made Securities
Tax Free.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The federal farm loan act is constitutional, the supreme court declared Monday.

The decision came in a suit which has halted the business of the farm loan system for several months. Justice Day read the decision.

The vote of the court on the question was 6 to 2.

Justices Holmes and McReynolds dissented on the ground that the court had not jurisdiction. Justice Brandeis did not sit in the case.

The decision is expected to aid greatly in relieving the financial distress now confronting agricultural interests, as it will now be possible to extend more loans to the farmers.

The action of congress in exempting all bonds and farm mortgages of the federal farm loan system from federal, state and municipal taxation—the center of the attack—was held to be valid.

Likewise, the power of congress to establish the federal land banks and the joint stockland banks as comprising the federal farm loan system, also under fire of the opponents of the act, was declared to be within the limit of the constitution.

The decision affirms decisions of the federal district court at Kansas City on a case brought by Charles E. Smith against the Kansas City Title and Trust company, the Federal Land Bank at Wichita and the Joint Stockland Banking company, Chicago. The act was defended by W. G. McAdoo, George W. Wickersham and Charles E. Hughes.

15 MISSING AND 1 DEAD AS SHIP SINKS

U. S. Destroyer Sinks After It
Is Rammed by Steamer
Off Panama Coast.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—A naval court of inquiry has been ordered to investigate the ramming of the American destroyer Woolsey by the steamer Steel Inventor, Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced Monday.

The investigation has been ordered by Rear Admiral Rodman, commander of the Pacific fleet. The court of inquiry will be held at Balboa. Rodman also stated he had instructed the commandant of the fifteenth naval district, Panama, to take steps to libel the Steel Inventor to protect the government against loss.

The sinking of the Woolsey resulted in the death of one enlisted man of the navy, the injury of several others, while fifteen members of the crew of the destroyer are missing.

Advices here did not show whether there were hopes of the missing still being alive. Most of them were from the fireroom crew of the Woolsey.

The collision occurred during the early hours of Sunday morning. The Steel Inventor, reports here said, crashed into the Woolsey and her heavy iron prow ploughed almost completely through the sides of the destroyer which sank quickly.

WINNIPEG STRIKERS RELEASED FROM JAIL

Winnipeg, Man.—John Queen, Manitoba legislative assembly, William Evans, M. L. A., George Armstrong, M. L. A., and J. A. Erickson and J. J. Acton, Winnipeg strike leaders, sentenced to one year imprisonment for seditious conspiracy in connection with the general strike of 1919, were liberated from prison half an hour after midnight.

The men have served all but two weeks of the sentence imposed.

SOCIALIST LOSES RACE FOR COUNCIL; TAKES LIFE

Chicago.—George Emmet Wilson, 63, Oklahoma state senator from 1914 to 1918, shot and killed himself here Monday.

Wilson, socialist candidate in the recent aldermanic elections here, was defeated. Despondency over his defeat is believed to have prompted his suicide.

He removed to Chicago from his home near Oklahoma City in 1918.

Legion Campaign Gets Underway With Parade

BRAVING THE wintry weather of Saturday evening, a large number of members of Oney Johnson post of the American Legion turned out for the booster parade which opened the drive for 600 members.

It was an attractive procession with the illuminated legion float, the Ninth Regiment band and a column of marching former service men.

The legion did itself proud with the above float, which was the feature of its street parade Saturday evening when the 1921 membership drive opened.

The float was built on a truck furnished by the Reliance Motor company, which also furnished carpenters, which also furnished carpenters. It was erected in the new Langstadt-Meyer service station on Washington street by members of the Legion.

Miss Regina King was selected by Appleton Women's club to occupy the "seat of honor" in the center "in the role of "Peace." Raymond Bentz, Peter Goehl and Henry Hoffman are the goerboys, appearing in full uniform and wearing overseas helmets. Frank Guertz and Theodore Mueller were clad as sailors and Bonnell Little as a marine. Boy scouts of Legion troop No. 5 preceded the float carrying signs.

The demonstration was hampered by the cold. Instruments of the band members froze up after they had traveled a few blocks, so music was furnished only part of the time. The parade started at Morrison-st., went west to Walnut-st. on College-ave. and returned over the same route.

Red flares illuminated the parade route. Its approach was also heralded by rifle volleys from soldiers, sailors and marines in uniform who were stationed on the float. A young lady dressed to represent Peace was stationed at the center. American flags were flying at the front and rear. Signs containing membership slogans decked the sides and rear, together with a handsomely carved legion emblem. The float was brilliantly lighted with electric lights. It was driven to the headquarters at Oneida and Washington-sts., where it has been kept on exhibit for two days, drawing a large number of spectators.

Division workers started their canvass of the city Monday morning and expected to have most of the territory covered by the end of the week.

'BOYS' WANT JOBS AS DRY LAW ENFORCERS

Washington Is Flooded With Seekers After Places at Pie Counter.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The quadrennial inundation of Washington is rapidly approaching flood tide, a seething torrent of job seekers is swirling and eddying around the capitol, the homes and hotels of cabinet members to be.

They are here to tell the world and the Harding administration that they were largely responsible for what happened November 2 and to claim fitting reward.

They will continue to seethe for a period after March 4 and then most of them still seething inwardly, will go home, disappointed.

A count by senate attaches indicated that no fewer than 3,000 of "the boys" dropped in to see senators about a little job during a week. At one time it was practically impossible to get through the marble room, a spacious place off the senate chamber where senators meet callers, for the number of "pie seekers" assembled there.

Most of them want to be just one thing—prohibition enforcers.

U. S. HAS RIGHT TO PROTEST MANDATES

By Henry Wood
Paris.—The right of the United States to a voice in fixing mandates returns is recognized by the league of nations council in a note laid before the council Monday by A. J. Balfour, British delegate.

The note was drafted in answer to Secretary of State Colby's protest on the Mesopotamian and Yap mandates, awarded Great Britain and Japan. It was understood to be of a most friendly character.

The council was split, however, on the proper method of inviting the United States to participate in mandate discussions. There was a fear that if she were invited to take part in a conference she would refuse as she has declined other invitations to act on various league commissions.

There was a possibility that the allied supreme council which assigned the island of Yap to Japan would be invited to reconsider its action.

41 STATES JOIN BADGER FIGHT ON RAIL RATES

Supreme Court Is Asked to Nullify Parts of Transportation Act.

WISCONSIN TAKES LEAD

Questions Commerce Commission's Authority to Fix Intrastate Rates.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Forty-two states Monday appealed to the supreme court to declare unconstitutional some of the most important sections of the transportation act which they claim override their sovereignty.

The fight is directed particularly against the section of the law giving the interstate commission power to fix intrastate as well as interstate rates.

The commission increased passenger, pullman, express and freight rates last August and later ordered intrastate rates raised to the level of these prescribed for interstate traffic.

The power of the commission is now before the court in a case appealed by the Wisconsin public utilities commission and the other states are backing Wisconsin. The case will be argued the latter part of this week.

A brief filed Monday was signed by the attorneys general and counsel of the railroad and utilities commission in the 42 states.

It is claimed the transportation act has illegally stripped the state commission of all control of intrastate rates and attacks the provisions that rates shall be adjusted to yield a fixed return. This provision is declared to be unconstitutional.

Regarding the combined attack on the law, John E. Benton, general solicitor for the state commissions, Monday said:

"We are seeking to preserve our government as it is, with power in the states to serve the people locally. A board in Washington cannot regulate the rates and service of the railroads in every part of this country. A federal commission has based these orders on the carriers' need for revenue."

"The state commissions have recognized this need and generally have made large rate increases, but they have considered local conditions and the rights of shippers also and have tried to avoid destroying traffic."

Must Have Evidence
Revenue agents must have search warrants to "invade private homes in hunting for liquor," the Supreme court held.

The decision, it is believed, will prevent widespread prohibition raids unless the federal government has information sufficient to obtain a warrant.

The court set aside the conviction of Lawrence Amos of South Carolina, for having "moonshine" whisky in his possession. Amos' appeal was based on the claim that the liquor was taken from his home without a warrant of search and seizure. The court ordered the liquor returned to him.

Loss Inheritance Taxes
Large amount of federal inheritance taxes collected under the revenue act of 1916 will be lost to the United States treasury, as the result of a decision by the court.

The decision held that the provisions of the act in question do not render taxable "an estate passing under testamentary execution of a general power of appointment created prior, but exercised subsequent to the passage of the act."

The court Monday upheld the trading with the enemy act and the seizure and proposed sale by the alien property custodian of 14,900 shares of stock in the Botany Worsted mills, Passaic, N. J., alleged to be German owned. The mill is one of the largest in the world.

VICE PRESIDENT GETS GIFT FROM U. S. SENATE

Washington.—The senate Monday bade Vice President Marshall farewell and goodspeed.

Sensors gave him a big silver cup or vase, three feet high, suitably engraved.

"Out in Indiana," said Marshall in accepting, "I will think it is a memorial of the eighteenth amendment."

Washington.—Secretary Houston should be cited before the senate for contempt," Senator Reed, Missouri, declared before the senate judiciary committee Monday when it developed that Houston had declined to produce correspondence relating to foreign loans and the department had been notified by the committee.

CHAMP CLARK BETTER AFTER A BAD NIGHT

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Champ Clark, former speaker and now democratic leader of the house, who is seriously ill here, was reported as improved at 3:30 a. m. Monday.

Clark called Saturday and his physicians believed he was on the road to recovery. He suffered a sinking spell last night, however, and his physician called special attention to the fact that he was not sleeping.

Mixed Signals Are Blamed For Wreck In Indiana Town

Michigan Central Flyer, Derailed at Grade Crossing, Hit by Canadian Train.

VERY FEW ARE INJURED

Terrible Scenes Are Enacted as Mangled Bodies Are Taken From Ruins.

By United Press Leased Wire
Porter, Ind.—The death list in the Michigan Central-New York Central wreck here reached forty Monday with the recovery of four additional bodies from the wreckage and reports of deaths of two of the injured at Michigan City, Ind.

Thirty-six of the mangled and mutilated bodies were laid out in the Chesterton undertaking rooms, a mile and a half from Porter.

About one-half of the bodies had been identified. Because of the mangled condition of many of the bodies, Coroner W. O. Seipel was doubtful if many of the bodies could be identified.

Engineer Blamed
Responsibility for the wreck was Monday placed on the engineer on the Canadian, by Joseph Cook, operator of the signal tower at the crossing. An examination of the block signal system showed that the two blocks were set against the Michigan Central engineer. His fireman said he saw the signal.

The injured:
L. W. Seelin, Chicago.
Abraham Rosenthal, Michigan City.
Mrs. L. E. Pitzer, Racine, Wis.
Miss Frances Kennedy, vaudeville star, Chicago.

Porter, Ind.—Addison Van Riper was killed in the wreck. He was here Sunday night on the fortieth anniversary of his service with the Michigan Central railroad.

He was to have retired Monday. His wife was killed with him.

PANAMA ASKS U. S. TO SEND GUNS TO WHIP COSTA RICA

League of Nations Will Not Be Asked to Arbitrate This Dispute.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Costa Rican forces which invaded Panama territory have surrendered to Panamanian troops, Charge Lefevre of the Panama legation here, declared Monday.

Costa Rica said he always set the signals so as to allow the train which hit the "bumper" first to have a clear track. His records showed, according to railroad officials, that the Interstate sounded the "bumper" before the Canadian gave warning of its approach.

Two officials of the Indianapolis commission were enroute to the scene of the wreck to conduct an investigation. No probe has been started by local authorities as yet. The fact that Coroner W. O. Seipel, of Porter county, did not call for an immediate probe of the disaster by a jury has incensed Porter citizens.

The Michigan Central train, leaving Chicago at 6 p. m. Sunday, continued down on the dangerous crossing at a speed of 55 miles an hour, hit the derail set against it. The engine and all the cars left the rails. The train was still plunging along lying half way across the Michigan Central tracks which intersect the New York Central rails when the Interstate Express, at a speed of 60 to 65 miles an hour, plunged into the forepart of the Canadian.

The Interstate Express was running from Boston to Chicago and the Canadian had left Chicago for Toronto and other Canadian points about an hour before the crash.

The engine of the Interstate Express ploughed through two derails and coaches of the derailed train. The coaches were picked up by the heavy by the mogul engine and stalled in piles of debris fifty feet high.

Start Rescue Work
After going through the train, the locomotive with parts of human bodies still hanging to the pilot, spun endwise around and then rolled over on its side. The engineer and fireman were killed instantly.

Passengers aboard the Interstate Express described their sensations as the train ploughed through the wreckage.

"We heard a terrible sound as if a wrecked train struck the window of the car began to jar," said John G. Hart, Chicago.

"We heard rending steel and crashing of glass, hissing steam and a mounting shriek from the dying and injured."

The work of rescue began immediately, although it was not until two hours after the crash occurred that a working train arrived from M.

Parts Of Junked Cars Get Back Into Service Again

What becomes of that old motor car when you get through with it? Passing from your possession, the car usually reaches the professional junkers. These men conduct the actual disposal of it and under their supervision, it is completely dismantled.

The body, if made of wood and beyond repair, is of no value except as fire wood. Upholstering material in suitable condition is first removed and used in refurnishing another body. Headlights, wind shields, speedometers, brass supporting rods, gauges and other fixtures are sold to small accessory shops, where auto-mobilists frequently go to purchase articles that are in good condition but which cost less than when new.

Before disposing of the engine, the make and quality must be considered. Because of the rapid development of cars, it is sometimes difficult to obtain parts for early models, therefore the pieces of an early motor, suitable for use as repairs are quite easily put to use again. When an engine is absolutely worthless, the different kind of metals are sorted, melted and remolded or made into castings. Metal bodies are treated in a like manner.

In many instances an old automobile is left without sufficient shelter waiting for a possible buyer which rusts the car so thoroughly that only internal parts of the engine may be utilized.

Electrical appliances, such as induction coils, storage and dry-cell batteries, timers and magnetos are kept in such good condition prior to an auto's disablement, that they are able to function properly if connected with some other engine.

Receiving much of the damage resulting from accidents or skidding wheels or skidding wheels are often demolished. If only a few of the spokes are involved, and providing the rim is intact, it is possible to secure new spokes in the vacant places.

DISTRICT BOARDS WORK TOGETHER

Greater uniformity in operation of Appleton's public schools was discussed at a meeting of the four district boards in Hotel Appleton Saturday night. Teachers' salaries also were discussed but no decision was reached. A committee consisting of W. H. Krohn, George H. Packard, William Hackleman and John Hantschel, clerks of the district boards, was appointed to look into the matter of text books.

George H. Packard was elected president of permanent organization which has been effected. Other officers are John Hantschel, vice president, and W. H. Hackleman, secretary.

Members of the Third district board were held at the dinner which preceded the business meeting. Every member of the four boards was present.

These meetings are held periodically in order to bring about more uniformity in Appleton schools.

Hits Light Pole
Cornelius Hannon, Kimberly, was slightly injured Friday evening when his automobile crashed into an electric light pole at the corner of Second-ave. and Lemmings-st. The pole was broken off completely and the machine badly wrecked at the front. Mr. Hannon was shaken up but escaped with a deep gash on the lip.

Edward Maurer is visiting friends at Wausau, Brockway and Oshkosh.

SOULOSOPHER

SOME men are fools, and some men are wise. What are the rest of us? This question will be answered by Prof. Edwin R. Shaw, in Lawrence Memorial chapel, Wednesday evening, March 2, at 8 o'clock. He will lecture on the subject, "Fools, Wise Men and the Rest of Us."

Prof. Shaw is known as the "Soulosopher," having had a varied experience, and large opportunities to observe human life in all of its phases. With a humorous understanding he tells folks how their fellows live and his genial philosophy and spicy manner make him a most interesting speaker. This accounts for the fact that in the last few years he has given over 2,000 addresses in various parts of the nation.

Not only is the "Soulosopher" skilled in telling about human foibles but he is expert in the matter of civic and governmental reforms. This topic will be discussed under the caption "World Civic and Moral Problems" in the chapel Thursday, March 3. Prof. Shaw will also speak to the college students Thursday morning at the assembly hour.

A. B. Hall, city chemist, will make milk tests and show how it is done at his laboratory in the filtration plant of the water works department. Groups will be in charge of teachers and the school nurse and the visits to both plants will be made this week.

J. E. Amend of the Pure Milk company, has asked the public health department of the women's club to cooperate with him in making the contest a matter of interest and education to as many pupils of the grades as possible. The club is conferring with principals and teachers. Rules and judges will be duly announced. The contest closes on March 25 and all essays must be in the hands of teachers at that date.

DRUNK GETS INTO WRONG HOUSE; SLEEPS IN JAIL

When Miss Helen Graft, a waitress, walked into her room at the home of Otto Muenster, 634 North street, Sunday evening she was horrified to find a man lying on her bed asleep. The police were summoned and the man removed to the city lockup. He was found to be George Muenster, who was alleged to be intoxicated and had wandered into the house thinking it was his own home. He was taken into court Monday morning, but his condition was such that he was returned to the county jail for the time being.

How Public Library Started

"There is in Appleton a collection of books, modest it is true, but which was gotten together as a nucleus for a public library," said a member of the City club in a communication published in Appleton Post 25 years ago today.

"The City club, a woman's literary club composed of 20 members, contributed one dollar or a book. Five cents a week or one dollar for the year, is the charge for the use of the books and as the dues accumulated new books are added. When the library numbers 500 books it is to be turned over to the city."

"The public is invited to examine the collection, and any person is privileged to make use of the library on the same footing as club members. At present our little library numbers 25 volumes. It is located in Miss Tanner's music store on College-ave., she generously giving us the use of the room."

"A member of the club acts as librarian and books may be obtained on Saturday afternoons from 3 to 5 o'clock. While we are waiting for the public library of our imagination, we can help the movement by taking an interest in the 'little acorn' which may perchance become a 'great oak.'"

BOARD MEETS FOR ITS LAST SESSION

Not Much Business of Importance Is to Be Transacted at Short Session.

The final session of the present county board was called to order at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon by Douglas Hodgins of Hortonville, chairman. The session will be a short one, five days and the business disposed of will be mostly of a routine nature.

Douglas Hodgins and Otto Rohm, the latter from Black Creek, arrived at the courthouse Monday morning. Both were asked if any women had announced themselves as candidates for supervisors in any of the towns of the county and they said they had not so far as they were aware.

Both were of the opinion, however, that there would be many changes on the county board this spring by reason of the action taken by members in regard to the highway and bond issues. It is understood that most of the members will be candidates for reelection. The term of office is now three years.

WANT REPEAL OF TAX ON PROFITS

National Chamber of Commerce Vote Shows Excess Profit Law Unpopular.

American business men are almost unanimous in demanding repeal of the excess profits tax as shown by a referendum vote of commercial organizations belonging to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The results of taxation referendum No. 34, announcing this have been received by Appleton Chamber of Commerce. Substitutes for the excess profits tax were suggested in the 15 proposals of the referendum, but the vote showed that the majority was against an increase in income taxes, and against any form of sales tax. The vote makes it clear that business men are united in their view that the excess profits tax hampers business operations and retards the progress of readjustment. Objection is raised because it produces inequities; is difficult of administration; price reductions will decrease revenues from this source, and that the tax encourages extravagance. A striking reaction was shown in the vote against increasing income taxes. Voters believed such increases would fall on the middle class of incomes, since little more can be derived from smaller incomes. Taxes are already so high on larger incomes that these people are investing in tax free securities and thus defeating the purpose of the tax.

16 PROBATE CASES ARE TO BE HEARD

A regular term of probate court will be held Tuesday. The calendar contains 16 cases besides those not disposed of on the regular calendar for Feb. 15 and on the special calendar for Feb. 15.

Hearings on claims will be held in the estates of Julianne Hauser, Joseph H. Marston, Ferdinand Kuck, Anna Kerr, Daniel Gottfried and John W. Hanselman.

Hearings on final accounts will include the estates of William Carter, William T. Meyer and Mary Klekkofer. Hearings on proofs of wills will be heard in the estates of William A. Siekman, John Wittlin and Anna T. C. VandenHeuvel.

In the estate of Joseph Bestler, a hearing will be held on a petition for judgment directing conveyance. In the estate of Philip Capman, the hearing will concern the determination of descent, and in the estate of John Lorie, there will be a hearing on petition for administration.

In the estate of Michael Hauser, who died in the town of Kaukauna 25 years ago, a hearing will be held to amend the record.

LAST CHAPTER IN SALE OF WILLY FLOUR MILL

Deeds connected with the transfer of the flour mill of Willy & Co. to the new owners, The Willy Co., were recorded Saturday at the office of A. C. Koch, registrar of deeds. One was from Louise S. Galpin and Katherine K. Willy to A. L. Nichols all of the unplatted part of block 30 in the Fifth ward for a consideration of $50,000, and another was A. L. Nichols to The Willy Co. the same property for a private consideration. Other deeds recorded were: Humphrey Pierce estate to Louise S. Galpin and Katherine W. Willy, land in Fifth ward, consideration, private; George Bayer to H. L. Bigford, land in Hortonville, consideration, $2,450; Elizabeth Lehman to Edward Zietlow, land in New London, consideration, private; Herman Manke to D. W. Plate, 33 acres in town of Seymour, consideration, private; Kimberly-Clark Co. to Kimberly Real Estate Co. lot 3 in block 6, consideration, private; William R. Missing to ux. to A. H. Diodrich, 10 acres in Ellington, consideration, $750.

WANT LOCAL SUPPORT FOR METRIC MEASUREMENT

Support of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been asked by the World Metric Standardization council, New York, in the movement to have United States adopt the metric system of measurement, and to induce other countries to do the same. Based on the meter and kilogram, the metric system would do away with the inch measurement now in general use. The new system is said to be preferred and more practical, but it would take years to bring about a change. France has used it for many years.

Copy of a bill before congress advocating the change was enclosed in the letter received here. It provides a 10-year period in which the change may be made, affording a gradual transition.

BUSINESS IN EAST AS QUIET AS HERE

Hundreds of Men in Eastern States Are Out of Work, Baake Says.

Charles Baake, sheriff of Outagamie county 25 years ago, when the country was overrun with traps, often holding over 100 in the county jail at one time, called on Appleton friends Friday. He just returned from an extended visit to his old home near Baltimore, Md., and says that conditions there are much the same as they are in Wisconsin.

He was close to the Pennsylvania coal fields, which he visited on several occasions and said while sidetracks were filled with empty gondola cars very little coal was moving and very few miners were at work. The better qualities of soft coal in that part of the country can be had at $7.50 per ton.

Many manufacturing plants in the east have been shut down for several months and idle men are to be seen everywhere. Some of the railroad men who went out on a strike several weeks are back to work, but the majority are still out of employment and the indications are they will not be taken back for some time by reason of retrenchment, all the eastern roads cutting down their help to the smallest possible number.

Living expenses in the east average about the same as in Wisconsin. Rents are high and while some articles of food are lower in price than here others are higher. Of late years Mr. Baake has been making his home on a farm in the town of Maine.

Express Thanks

Appreciation has been expressed by the faculty and students of the high school to Neil Duffy, owner of the Elite theatre, for this willingness to exhibit educational films Saturday morning for the benefit of manual training and botany classes. The free use of the building, machine and operator were given by Mr. Duffy.

Margaret Courtney, after spending the weekend with relatives here, has returned to Milwaukee.

EARLY CLOSE OF LOGGING SEASON

Conditions in North Woods Not Favorable for Getting Out Timber.

Fred Jentz of Jentz Cedar and Lumber Co., who has been getting out logs all winter at Watersmeet, Mich., said weather conditions are so unfavorable for logging in that part of the country that he expects to discontinue operations early in March instead of early in April as has been his custom heretofore.

There is very little snow in the woods and the weather has been so mild for the last three weeks that it is almost impossible to maintain ice roads. The early part of the winter was very favorable for logging and the cut up to Feb. 1 was a very large one. No trouble was experienced in getting help and the health of the men was exceptionally good.

Mr. Jentz said the logs are being shipped as fast as they are hauled to the railroad track. There is no scarcity of cars and the shipments will cease as soon as the camps break up.

Years ago a large number of men employed in the woods remained over to take part in the drive. The drive to a great extent is a thing of the past. The logs are now shipped to the mills by rail, the owners claiming this is a cheaper and more satisfactory method as there is no loss from sinking and no delay caused by low water.

DANGER OF STRIKE IN MEXICO IS GROWING

Eagle Pass, Texas.—Fears of a general railway strike in Mexico were increased here Friday when shopmen of the National Railways of Mexico, employed at the shops in Piedras Negras, across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, struck.

More than 1,000 men walked out, officials estimated. Trainmen, however, refused to strike and trains were running heavily guarded to prevent any possible outbreak against property or passengers, the report said.

PENNANT IS WON BY FIRST WARD TROOP

Boy Scout Troop No. 3. Records Best Observance of Anniversary Week.

Boy scout troop No. 3 of the First ward school won the anniversary pennant of Appleton Boy Scout council, according to announcement of E. R. Henderson, scout executive. Troop No. 8 of First Congregational church waged such a close contest that it was necessary for the court of honor to decide the winner.

Participation in the events of each day of scout anniversary week formed the basis of the contest. Points were given for each event and Troop No. 3 had almost 100 per cent in each day's activities. John Ryan, Jr., is acting scoutmaster and Henry Heller, senior patrol leader. The troop was disorganized for some time, but demonstrated that it had revived completely.

Troop No. 8 has a much larger membership and appeared to lose out for top place because the attendance was not as good. Each of the anniversary days was observed in an elaborate manner.

Troop No. 2 of the Methodist church and Troop No. 1, independent, were also contenders for the pennant, but lacked a large enough percentage to try for first or second place. The prize pennant is attractively designed in orange and black.

WIECKERT COW IS GOOD MONEY MAKER

Holstein Almost Breaks 1921 Production Record in Official Test.

One of the best records in the state this year for 4-year old Holsteins was made by a cow, owned by Walter Wieckert, town of Center, in an official 7-day test conducted by an expert from the college of agriculture, Madison. The cow gave 671 pounds of milk with butter fat record of 23.06 pounds. Her best day's record was 104 pounds of milk.

The animal is the daughter of a Holstein of six years that made a record of 23.66 pounds of butter fat, 655 pounds of milk, and 104 pounds on the best day.

A growing child needs twice the amount of food an adult needs —and why

EMINENT authorities on nutrition state that a growing child needs twice the amount of food, in proportion to weight, than an adult needs.

For the child not only uses up more energy than a grown person, but he has to have a lot of food to help him grow.

The most important of all energy foods is Dextrose. Every bit of starch and sugar you eat in bread, potatoes or vegetables—has to be changed into Dextrose, before your system can use it as energy food.

This is one reason why Karo, the Great American Syrup, is such a splendid food—especially for growing children. Karo contains a very large percentage of Dextrose, so it is almost a predigested food.

Give your boys and girls plenty of rich nourishing Karo—on cakes or spread on bread. It will make them robust and sturdy.

Your Protection

Do not be deceived by cheap counterfeit syrups that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it, and be assured of full weight, pure and healthful quality.

BLUE Karo
The standard table syrup. Also for cooking, baking and candy making. Light brown color, delicious flavor—a heavy-bodied syrup.

RED Karo
The Ideal Syrup for every use—for cooking, baking, candy making and preserving. Because of its honey-like appearance many prefer it as a spread for cakes, biscuits, breads.

GREEN Karo
Flavored with highest grade real maple sugar. Very moderate in price—absolutely pure. The makers of Karo are the world's largest users of the highest grade maple sugar—over a thousand tons used annually.

CAMPING SITES FOR TOURISTS

The tourist travel now coming into Wisconsin amounts to millions of dollars annually to widely diversified business. The rapid expansion of our good roads, the splendid highway system with state trunk lines and simplified marking of routes, together with unsurpassed inducements to the traveler, whether sight seeing, pleasure seeking or health hunting, assure us a constantly increasing tourist business. Moreover, by the proper encouragement of this travel the major portion of it directed toward the north can be concentrated in Wisconsin. Our roads are better and can be kept better than those of surrounding states, while in scenery and recreational advantages we easily lead them all.

Nevertheless, the time has arrived when we must commence to take some cognizance of tourist travel and the opportunity of capitalizing it for our benefit if we develop it as we should. Good hotel and resort accommodations must be provided, and at least commercial hospitality extended. The most important trunk line in Wisconsin passes through Appleton. It is known as route 15 and leads up from Milwaukee and passes on to the north. This highway carries more traffic than any other in the state outside of the Blue Mound road at Milwaukee.

Thousands of automobiles pass over this and other roads leading into Appleton daily during the summer season. Many of them carry camping facilities and are on the lookout for favorable places to pitch their tents and remain for a few days or over night. There is a movement which is statewide to provide camping sites for motoring tourists where they would be likely to serve the largest number and to encourage stops. Milwaukee is going to establish a number of these camping sites and Appleton will be asked to do the same. We believe this is a proposal which can well be supported by the municipality or the Chamber of Commerce or both. There are numerous sites in close proximity to the city which could be made available for this purpose, some of them with beautiful surroundings along the river and easily accessible to the city. Water supplies could be arranged for and regulations imposed for proper sanitation and the health and convenience of all who utilized these parking places. The day will come when cities all over the state will establish these inducements to tourist travel. We should profit by being among the first to take this progressive step.

CONCEALED FORTS

Ever since it was said of the walls of ancient Babylon that they "mounted to heaven" and could not be battered down nations have relied on frontier forts placed conspicuously on elevations commanding an extensive view of the surrounding country. A recent announcement of the general staff of the French army is less interesting in itself than as showing that the World War has caused a radical revision of this ancient idea. The announcement is that the French general staff has decided, in reconstructing its frontier forts, to place them out of sight in valleys rather than at conspicuous points on hills. The explanation given is that the World War demonstrated the helplessness of exposed concrete and steel forts when assaulted by the latest and heaviest guns. At Liege, for example, the Germans had only to find the range of the Belgian battlements in order to crush them with projectiles from their giant guns.

Formerly heavy and well constructed forts could be safely relied on, but the science of assault has outstripped the science of defense and now an invading army has only to locate the strongest fortress in order to demolish it. Verdun was a notable exception but it held because of its numerous outer defenses and the concentration of vast forces. In the absence of American intervention it too probably would have fallen. Concealed forts will of course be only relatively possible, but they carry evident advantages and illustrate in another way the revolutionizing effects of the World War.

A CHANCE FOR MR. HAYS

As long as Mr. Burleson has been postmaster-general there has been widespread public dissatisfaction with his administration of that department. The criticism has not been without foundation. The postoffice department has been placed on a paying basis during the term of President Wilson, but it has been done largely through economy which sacrificed service and efficiency. Railway mail service has been curtailed, postoffice service abridged rather than extended, the number of employees held down to the minimum and salaries kept at the lowest possible point. Thousands of postal employees are paid almost starvation salaries, while the pay of important executives is insufficient to attract and hold capable men. Mr. Burleson's sole idea seems to have been to make a favorable fiscal showing for the operation of his department, with the result that probably never in the history of the postoffice have the people received poorer service, natural progress being taken into consideration. The morale of the department has been undermined and judged by the standard of benefits to the public, the Burleson administration has been a conspicuous failure.

Mr. Hays will, therefore, enter this office with an exceptional opportunity to distinguish himself as a public servant. He will be in a position to give the country vastly improved service in the handling of its mail. It is not contemplated that the postoffice department shall be conducted at a large profit. Rather the policy should be to put back into the postoffice surpluses for the extension of facilities, enlargement of conveniences and the better pay of postal employees, all contributing to greater efficiency. Mr. Hays can accomplish these reforms only by administering the department from the business standpoint. He will not succeed if he makes the postoffice a clearing house for political spoils. Not knowing anything of the department except what he will learn from experience Mr. Hays would do well to surround himself with capable railway mail and postoffice executives. The assistants to the postmaster-general perform the real work of the department. They execute general policies and if the policies are progressive and the executives experienced superior service will be assured.

The postoffice department has never really been managed after the pattern of private business. With all its faults and its envelopment in politics it is still a reliable and responsible agency of communication. The people would not for a moment consider the performance of this duty by private interests. At the same time there is no reason why the people should not be given postal service based on business efficiency instead of on political inefficiency.

ANOTHER GOAL FOR WOMEN

The National Woman's party is going to try "to remove legal discriminations against women." In the past one never knew whether one had to dodge a brickbat or a bouquet when Alice Paul's followers rallied round the picket banner. Whether one agreed with them or not as to their unprecedented methods of campaigning, nobody questioned their courage.

Many things entered into the late suffrage victory. Years of patient, educational work on the part of women whose hair is now white and whose feet move haltingly, laid a firm foundation. They suffered the ridicule that comes to pioneers. They had the steadfastness of purpose to keep right on when there was not a ghost of a show of immediate victory.

Slowly public opinion changed to favor "the cause." Wyoming, first state to grant equal suffrage, adopted it largely as the result of a joke. But from Wyoming to Tennessee, the "perfect thirty-sixth," there has been no turning back. Eight years ago Alice Paul, a young Quaker, gathered a group of progressive women about her. "Let concentrate our fire on congress," was her call. The rest is history, or at least, first page publicity.

But the battle is not yet done. "To remove legal discriminations against women," the new task the Woman's party has set out for itself is no small one. The most ultra-conservative can find nothing objectionable in that goal, but when it comes to altering laws already on the statute books there are several ways of doing it, none of them easy.

Health Talks

WHY DOES A BABY CUT TEETH?

Nowhere today will you find an educated or skillful physician who will admit that it ever makes a baby sick to cut teeth. Therefore, every mother or potential mother should realize that it is an indefensible cruelty to procrastinate or to postpone summoning the physician on the false assumption that the baby's illness may be "just teething." Remember that a baby is always cutting teeth from the age of a few months to the age of several years. There is never a week or day in a baby's life when he is not cutting teeth. How, then, can only occasional illness be attributed to such an unreal cause? Death has been noted up to many an unfortunate infant through neglect inspired by the cruelly false superstition of sickness from the natural physiological process of cutting teeth.

A baby does not cut teeth merely for the pleasure of watching the neighborhood chatter about it. He cuts 'em for his own good purpose—he wants to chew some food, and he needs such food as he must chew, and needs it sorely.

Give him such food if you think Nature knows her business. Let him languish on liquid food alone if you feel sure Nature is wrong.

A few teaspoonfuls of orange juice or other fruit juice may be given babies daily, apart from milk feedings, from the fourth month of age. By the time the baby is eight months old a few teaspoonfuls of any sweetish, thoroughly cooked and strained through a sieve, may be given three times a week. Some fresh meat broth may be given at the same time. When he is ten months old the baby should be regularly fed cereal gruels, soft boiled eggs, and fresh meat broths thickened with flour or bread or cracker. The pulp of any cooked fruit may be given from the age of nine months to most babies as an aid to bowel action. A baby a year old should be eating butter toast, apples baked or apple sauce, boiled rice, oatmeal, farina or hominy with milk or cream and brown sugar, baked or mashed potatoes, soft boiled or poached eggs, tapioca, vermicelli, well cooked vegetables strained through sieve (up to age of two years), and once or twice a week a very little tender meat.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Line Deficiency
In regions underlaid by granite, as in New England and upper Michigan, where soil is deficient in lime and water is soft, it is claimed that children suffer from insufficient lime for body building and maintenance. Do you believe this to be true? Would milk from cows in these regions also be deficient in lime or contain less lime than in cows fed on feed from soils richer in lime? Does hard water contain lime in a form which can supply such deficiency in the body? If it is true that people residing in these regions suffer from a lack of lime, how may lime best be provided to make up the deficiency? Is agriculture it is conceded that the finer products of domestic animals come from regions rich in lime. (S. C. R. Burt, Michigan.)

ANSWER—I have no information on the relation of a lime-poor soil to the proportion of lime in milk from cows in such regions, but so far as I know there is no material difference in the lime content of milk from cows in different regions. According to the studies of some competent students of nutrition and physiology, such as Prof. H. C. Sherman of Columbia University, it seems probable that the dietary of the average family, in any part of our country, is deficient in lime. Many of our staple foods are rather poor in lime. Cereals, meats, refined sugar, fats, for instance. Other wholesome foods, like milk, cheese, and nuts are rich in lime but not so freely consumed by the average American family. It would be a simple matter to supply the necessary lime by making lime carbonate with common salt in the table salt cellars, equal parts of each. Pulverized egg shell is practically lime carbonate, but the pure article may be obtained from druggists. No doubt the lime in hard water is utilized in the body if there is a lime deficiency.

More Substitutes

I know a stunt that is just as good as your own. I mean for us old fogies who can't roll quite over. Shove the bed against the wall, sit on the edge, lie back and draw the legs up slowly till they touch the wall over your head. By practicing this faithfully morning and evening for a few minutes, I have succeeded in toning up the abdominal muscles wonderfully. I now find I can stand on the back of my neck in a Pullman berth and put on my pants without spilling my change or offending the lady in the opposite berth, which feat, Bro. Harte says, requires gymnastic ability of no mean order. (J. B.)

ANSWER—Very good. But can you bridge yourself from the floor on your forehead and toes alone? Turn over. Can you bridge yourself on back of head and heels alone? There are a couple of stunts that strengthen the neck, trunk, and everything, and it is lots of fun practicing them.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Monday, March 2, 1896.

William McGregor of Medford was a guest in the family of W. H. Killen. Judge John Goodland and Reporter F. S. Bradford left for Florence to hold a regular term of court.

Judge G. T. Moeskes was in Milwaukee attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, Fred Esser. Edward O'Keefe left for Eau Claire, where he was superintending the building of the new pulp mill for the Delta Paper and Pulp Co.

John Koffend, 76, an early pioneer of the city, died at his home on Wisconsin St.

The carpenter shop of Phil Saxton on Fourth St. was totally destroyed by fire.

The Milwaukee Journal on the previous Saturday issued a special wheelman's edition containing eight pages of carefully prepared matter concerning wheels and wheeling. It contained many illustrations.

The funeral of W. S. Warner was held from his late residence on Washington street the day previous. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. S. Davis. Music was rendered by a quartet consisting of Miss Alice Williams, Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. Zonne and W. B. Murphy.

A barn belonging to the widow of Capt. William Young of Medford was destroyed by fire.

New officers of the Young Men's Sunday Evening Club were: President, C. A. Bennett; vice president, A. C. H. Baker; secretary, F. W. Hamilton; treasurer, F. H. Hood.

The fair was selling XXXX coffee at 18 cents a pound; sardines in oil, 8 cents a can; sardines in mustard, 5 cents a can; tomatoes, 3 pence each; 4 cents sugar corn, 5 cents; Glean soap, 5 bars, 25 cents.

PUNISHMENT FOR PROFITTEERS

The anti-profiteering campaign in England has resulted in the conviction of 1,320 persons, with more in prospect. Many of them were banished prison terms and $25,000 in fines collected.

Siberia As The New West

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Washington, D. C.—The undeveloped wild-ness of Siberia is the natural outlet for the pioneering spirit of America, now that it has crossed the American continent. The far east, to make a paradox, is the new east. Of the conquest of this new frontier is to be a bloodless one. It is to be a conquest of development, relying for its success on the cooperation of the American people and the Russian people.

Haskin That is understood to be the view of the American capitalists who have obtained great concessions of coal and oil lands, and trapping and fishing rights in Siberia from the soviet government.

The Vanderlip syndicate, as this organization is commonly called, has been the subject of a great deal of speculation. It has made a deal with the soviet government. What are to be the consequences of such a union? Does it mean that American capital or some of it at least, approves of the soviet government? If so—and like-wise it is not—what political consequences will follow this most daring and spectacular move of American finance?

All of these questions have been asked again and again, and also variously answered in a speculative way by critics of the enterprise. The answer of the men who have put their money into the Vanderlip syndicate is about as follows:

The enterprise of the syndicate is a purely industrial enterprise and is intended to have no political implications. It does not mean that the men represented by the syndicate approve of the de facto government of Russia. On the other hand, it has been especially stipulated that American, and not soviet standards of and methods shall prevail in the work which the syndicate proposes to do in Siberia. The syndicate is understood to recognize the fact that the stability of the soviet government is an unknown quantity, and to accept this as an inevitable fact of risk in its operations. The implication is that the syndicate is hoping that political developments will favor its enterprise, and that it believes the stakes are worth the chances taken.

A Market for the West. What it especially emphasizes is the importance of Siberia as a field for American industrial energy. The Pacific coast, it points out, is rapidly becoming a great industrial, manufacturing community. This community needs two things—raw material and a market for its products. Unless it finds a foreign market for its products, these must necessarily come more and more into competition with the manufactures of the east and middle-west.

The fact which the syndicate wishes to impress upon the American people is that Siberia is the logical source of raw material and the logical market for manufactured products of the great Pacific coast industries. It is

JURY OF NEGRO WOMEN GIVES VERDICT TO WHITES

Indianapolis—Indianapolis has just had the first jury of 12 negro women in the legal history of the country.

They sat in the case of a negro, Daniel Holt, plaintiff in a suit filed against Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Fife, both white.

Holt claimed the Fife automobile crashed into his horse and wagon to the tune of $165 worth of damage.

After Rev. John Fox, also colored, opened the trial with prayer, the jury heard testimony and in 12 minutes returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

WANT AIR MAIL SERVICE HEAD TO EXPLAIN WRECKS

By United Press Leased Wire

St. Paul—Carl F. Egge, superintendent of the air mail service between here and Chicago, went to Washington Friday to explain why he believes the route should not be abandoned, it was reported here. He will be asked, it was said, where responsibility lies for several accidents in the division and resultant inefficiency.

A special investigator has probed two accidents near here. In one the aviator was killed and the mechanic injured and in the other Pilot Eversole, of Chicago, was forced to jump from his plane in a parachute.

The Truth

We are so equipped that we would launder every collar worn in Appleton in two days time. The fact that Appleton's most fastidious hotel, the Hotel Sherman, handles its patrons personal laundry through us is proof enough that we are out to give service.

Since the time of the first laundry with its wash tub and gas iron came into existence, laundrymen have vied with one another in claiming the most superior equipment. Do not take our word for it. Equipment and skilled labor are the laundryman's winning cards. Bring in a few collars to us and ask to see how they go through. Our big collar ironing machine is not running capacity because we have not been advertising our collar run. A series of tests in soaps, blues, starches, and in dampening has given us confidence in offering to you the prettiest collar work to be had.

Keep Spices Air Tight

All spices should be kept in air-tight containers. The action of air on the ground spice causes loss of flavor. If the spices are bought in boxes there is always a perforated top with a shutter for the very purpose of keeping out the air. If the spices are bought by bulk provide crockery jars with tight covers or put the spice, bag and all, into a tightly covered empty baking powder can. Make a neat label and paste on the can to save unnecessary hunting for the right spice.

Menu for Tomorrow.

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, broiled bacon, creamed potatoes, graham toast, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Baked macaroni and cheese, toasted muffins, canned pears, hamlets, tea.
DINNER—Stuffed pork chops, potatoes O'Brien, fried apples, canned lima beans, toilet, coffee.

My Own Recipes.

A pimento or two chopped and added to the macaroni, changes plain macaroni and cheese a bit. A tiny pinch of mustard sifted with the flour when making the white sauce adds "zip." A few stewed tomatoes left from dinner may be mixed with the macaroni.

Hamlets.

2-3 cup butter
14 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1 cup chopped raisins
1 teaspoon soda
2 tablespoons sour milk
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
flour to roll
Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs well beaten. Sift in flour to make stiff. Add raisins and spices. Add sour milk with soda dissolved in it. Mix well and add more flour to make stiff enough to roll. Turn on floured molding board and roll thin. Cut and bake in a hot oven.

POTATOES O'BRIEN.

2 cups boiled diced potatoes
1-2 cup grated cheese
1/2 teaspoon minced onion
2 pimentos
1/2 cup cream
cracker crumbs
butter
1/2 teaspoon salt

Put a layer of potatoes in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with cheese, onion and shreds of pimento. Add another layer of potatoes and so on until all is used. Put cracker crumbs over top, pour over milk, dot with bits of butter and put in a hot oven to brown and heat through.

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

Ann Thinks It A Wonderful Idea to Help Deb "elope."

"I've always been perfectly crazy about elopements. It's the only way Jim and I eloped, you know. Now Jane, believe me, I won't gum up Deb's wedding. If you let me in on it! Please!" This from Ann, to which I replied:

"Ann, I think it was perfectly outrageous of you to listen!"

"Couldn't help it, Janie. I wasn't busy-footing honest I wasn't. I just ran over to sing you a little song I've been writing and I was humming it all the way upstairs, fixing up the second line of the chorus, and I was going to surprise you, and instead, you never heard me and I was the surprised one. Stunned, positively, to think that Debbie Burns would dream of eloping! Just like me! And now I can't remember my song, that is nothing but the title which is, 'You Can't Live in Love Town All the Time.' Say, girls, ain't it a peach of an idea? Listen, Debbie dear, can't I be a bridesmaid or something?"

"Where are you going? When? What are you going to wear?"

Now Deborah Burns is so fine herself that she believes in the goodness of everybody else. She ought to have known that Ann was petty and silly and tricky, but she acted as if the child were the spirit of integrity. She put her arms around the babe and explained:

"Nothing has been planned yet except that I am to meet Ted at four this afternoon at the Valley Parsonage."

"Whoo-ee-ee!" whistled Ann. "What a jolly romantic spot! Only I should think you'd pull it off right here in town so it could get into all the papers right away. If there isn't to be any fuss about it, why elope?"

"This is not a joke, Ann Lorimer," I said in my severest tone. "Now you must promise not to tell a single soul!"

"Cross-patch! Cross-patch!" hummed Ann until Deb cut her short with:

"Jane is going to take me to the parsonage in her car. Ted will be there with the license."

"And me with the bouquet!" Ann interrupted.

"Then Ted will catch the 5 o'clock train for the east. It's the only through train which stops at the Valley Station. So I mustn't be late."

"Say, girls, let me drive the car!" Ann pleaded.

"If you'll promise not to tell!" I insisted. I felt that if we were to keep Ann out of mischief we would better keep her occupied. Really, I couldn't think of any promise Ann would not break, on an impulse, after which she would spend hours excusing herself to herself for her treachery.

"I've got to be off," she announced suddenly. "I promised Van I'd go with him to the football game this morning. You needn't look so pernickily, Jane. Jim said I could. So there. Pity you can't chaperone me all the time. But say, I'd heap rather stick around here and help pull this thing off. How's Ted going to the Valley?"

"On a local train."

"Ann Lorimer, do you intend to keep a secret—just for once in your life?"

I persisted because I knew that there wasn't much of anything Paul Van Eyck couldn't worm out of a woman when his flatterer tongue was at its best.

Ann departed without promising. She went down the stairs singing her first original melody and do dance steps to it, with a high kick, even as she descended.

"You Can't Live in Love Town All the Time!" she called up to us as she slammed the front door.

How the plainest woman can be pretty

A winning personality and a perfect complexion constitute a combination of charm which mere prettiness of features cannot rival.

The girl with the radiant, clear complexion is sure of admiration no matter what her type. The woman with a smooth, flawless skin is always considered young.

Such a complexion isn't a gift of Nature, but an attraction every woman can achieve. The secret was discovered in the days of ancient Egypt, was practiced by Cleopatra.

Begin this treatment today

Wash your face gently with the mild, creamy lather of Palmolive, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly and it will carry away all the dangerous accumulations which so often cause skin infection.

Then apply a touch of cold cream, smoothing it into the skin. You will be delighted at the way your complexion looks and feels, at its smoothness, fine texture and fresh color. This special face washing regime is thorough without irritation.

Remember blackheads come from pores filling up with dirt—that pimples follow when this dirt carries infection.

Daily cleansing is your protection against skin troubles. Powder and rouge are harmless when applied to a clean skin.

Discovered 3,000 years ago

The use of Palm and Olive oil as cleansers is as old as history. Ancient Egypt discovered their value 3,000 years ago.

These oils are combined in Palmolive soap because modern science can discover no finer, milder ingredients. They are cosmetic oils, soothing and healing. They impart these virtues to Palmolive soap.

And best of all the price of Palmolive puts it, though so great a luxury, within the reach of all.

Only 10 cents

Although money can't command finer, milder, more beneficial cosmetic soap, modern manufacturing science has reduced the price to 10 cents a cake. The enormous demand keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night. It permits the purchase of the costly ingredients in gigantic volume.

Thus while women prefer Palmolive for their facial soap, it is also the popular family soap of America. The toilet luxury all may enjoy at the price of ordinary soap.

Try Cleopatra's way to complexion beauty

The used cosmetics of every kind to enhance her charm, but cleansing with Palm and Olive oils came first. The same rule, applied today, will keep your complexion fresh, youthful and free from blemishes.

Use the same Palm and Olive oils, mild and soothing. They are scientifically combined for the use of modern women in Palmolive—the beautifying cleanser.

Noted Evangelists Are Coming Here Next Month

Evangelistic Party Coming Here Is Highly Recommended by Waterloo Man.

Lawrence Memorial chapel will be the scene of a 4-week union evangelistic campaign April 17 to May 15, conducted by the McCombe-Chase evangelistic party, one of the most highly recommended organizations in this work. The meetings have been arranged by five Protestant churches, the First Methodist, Memorial Presbyterian, German Methodist, Emmanuel Evangelical and Baptist.

In the party are Dr. John H. McCombe, who is a gifted preacher, Harold C. Chase, a strong choir leader and Mrs. McCombe and Mrs. Chase, noted workers among women. They recently conducted meetings in Park avenue Methodist church, Kenosha, and are now in Waterloo, Iowa. Meetings are to be held each night with the possible exception of Mondays, opening on a Sunday and closing on a Sunday. Mr. Chase expects to organize a large chorus choir among Appleton singers, having at least 100 on the platform each night.

Group Service
Special group services are to be arranged during the campaign for men, women and girls, and for children and students. Shop meetings will be scheduled at various factories. Dr. I. E. Wood is chairman of the committee in charge of the preliminary arrangements.

Care has been exercised by the participating churches to select evangelists whose methods were of the highest order—men who could conduct dignified services devoid of the sensational, and induce those attending to live a better life of their own volition after hearing the messages of the speaker and song leader. The character and work of the McCombe-Chase party is best expressed in a letter received by Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, from the Rev. Frank Willard, court, pastor of First Methodist church, Waterloo, Iowa, where meetings are now in progress. He is outspoken in his praise of their work. The letter follows:

"I am taking the liberty to pen you a few lines relative to a subject in which I am confident you are deeply interested.

"The McCombe-Chase Evangelistic party have been with me for the past two weeks and conclude their campaign with us March 6—four weeks and five Sundays. I take it from me, as one who is deeply interested in the largest success of your campaign in Appleton, that you cannot well overestimate the benefit which you have in store."

"Last spring I endeavored to line up the ministers of West Waterloo for a union evangelistic campaign, but somehow they seemed to be afraid of the enterprise, so I urged our church to go ahead single handed and we called this party to conduct a campaign after the official board had taken unanimous favorable action. I had Mr. and Mrs. Chase with us in a campaign about eight years ago, and knew of their wonderful promise and great ability in their respective lines of work. I had met Dr. McCombe, but had never heard him preach. However, after two weeks of cooperative work together, wish to say that I have never met in any line of Christian work. Their team organization is simply wonderful. They are versatile, tactful, sympathetic, deeply spiritual, highly cultured, each possessing strong personality and each one efficient. They put on a different program than I have ever seen before. Each service stands out unique in itself, and yet in direct contrast with the one preceding it and the one succeeding it, still they correlate each other in a perfect manner. There were some doubting Thomases among our number when the proposition was under discussion, but there are none today. Everyone is enthusiastic and boosting. We have not heard a single word of criticism as to their method, manner of work or in any way whatsoever."

"Today one of our leading business men, not a member of any church, but a leader of public affairs, stated that although he had lived in Waterloo all his life, and had attended the Bible Sunday campaign, yet to his knowledge there never had been a team of workers that had ever come to our city that had so gripped Waterloo as this corps of workers. Said he: 'They give the best and are entitled to the best.'"

"Mrs. McCombe is a marvelous woman speaker. Our church will accommodate about 1500 people, and at her second women's meeting it was jammed to the doors. On Wednesday evening of the first week standing room was at a premium, and every niche and corner where a person could sit or stand was occupied, and often a half an hour or so before the service began. Their illuminated cross service on Friday nights is the talk of the city, and last Friday night at the double cross service at 8:00 the church was packed to its utmost capacity with folks standing on the steps leading up to the auditorium and in the corridors, and the service began at 7:05 p. m. They announced that thereafter services would begin when the auditorium was packed, whether it was 7:30 P. M. or not, and we have usually been beginning services about 7:15, as the seats were all taken by that time."

"Mr. Chase is one of the most efficient chorale leaders on the American continent. He has a strong personality, is resourceful and tactful in his manner, and knows how to handle folks, and is a specialist with students. The school board invited him and Mrs. Chase to hold their meetings in the school building with the high school students, which they are doing with wonderful success."

"We extended the platform of the church so as to accommodate approximately one hundred and seventy-five persons, and we have a long waiting list among the best singers who would like to get a place in the choir but cannot be accommodated. Dr.

McCombe presents the truth of God in a forceful, emphatic manner, and his Irish wit assists him in driving home the Gospel message with wonderful effect. He grows on the individual and the mass.

"We will have no difficulty whatever in financing the movement from the basket offerings from night to night. Mr. McCombe has charge of that work and is very tactful, witty and effective, and gets results. Although most of our factories are closed down or only running a nucleus of a factory, I am sure we will pay all bills without any special effort being put forth upon the part of any person. I know how much depends upon workers of this nature, and I thought perhaps that you would be interested in knowing how matters are progressing here. There were about 60 who took the stand for Christ in response to the first invitation last Friday night, and a large number each subsequent evening, and Dr. McCombe has not pressed the decision subject up to date. Today they have the best hold upon the young folks in our city of any force, by far, that I have ever known. I am delighted to know that they are looked for in Appleton, and I am sure the student body will count these weeks as days of golden opportunity from which they will receive inspiration, true joy, and a new grip on God."

Mrs. Charles Luedke of Oakkosh, spent Sunday with relatives here. Mrs. John Kiedalsch of Welcome, Minn., spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ehke, 952 Spring-st.

MRS. W. F. BAKER of Milwaukee, Oregon, who says she has been restored to perfect health by Tanlac after having suffered for twenty years. Her statement is remarkable.

"For the last twenty years I have suffered from stomach trouble in its worst form. I was in misery all the time. If I took a drink of coffee or milk or even water, it would cause belching and gas. In fact, absolutely nothing would digest in my stomach. I always had an awful burning sensation in the pit of my stomach. I believe I have taken almost a wagon load of soda for stomach trouble. I would have to take it night and day. Gas would build me up so badly I couldn't fasten my clothes. At times my heart would palpitate and flutter so badly I would nearly smother and I would have to gasp for breath. In fact, I thought I had heart trouble."

"I was very fond of cheese and the least bite would throw me right into spasms. I was also very fond of onions, but they would upset me terribly."

"My whole system was out of shape and I was also bothered with rheumatism and neuritis. Pains in my arms and other joints were almost unbearable. I had to carry one of my arms in a sling and couldn't raise it up and for a long time I was in just an awful condition."

"I told my husband I guessed I would have to give up and die, as the doctors' medicines and other things I took didn't do me any good. Then he got me some Tanlac and said I had to take it. Well, before I finished one bottle I found the things I would eat did not bother me so much. I kept gradually getting better and finally after taking five bottles, my trouble was entirely relieved. I can now eat onions, cheese or anything I want. In fact, I am in perfect health in every way. My neuritis and rheumatism have also left me. I know that five dollars' worth of Tanlac has done me more good than a hundred dollars' worth of other medicines. I will sing the praise of Tanlac as long as I live."

The above remarkable statement was made by Mrs. W. F. Baker, whose address is Milwaukee, Oregon, R. F. N. 2.

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt, F. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Abend, Dale; R. E. Lowell, Little Chute.

ELKS SCORE WELL IN STATE TOURNEY

Jacobson and Sampson and Johnson's Outlaws Are Among Leaders.

Appleton Elks, bowling in the state tournament in Green Bay on Sunday, made the wood fly and when the last ball was rolled down the alleys, two local organizations had fought their way into places among the leaders. Johnson's Outlaws, rolling in good form went into third place in the main events with a score of 2,658. The Capper and Capper team of Milwaukee, with 2,555, in first place. Sampson and Jacobson hit the wood hard in the doubles and are now in second place in the tournament. Their score was 1,167, about 70 points behind the leaders. Frey and Dewey of Antigo.

Following are leaders after Sunday's games.

GEORGES WILL GET HIS CHANCE TO BE CHAMP ON JULY 2

Rickard Announces Date for Heavyweight Championship Bout.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Tex Rickard announced Monday that the Dempsey-Carpenter fight will be held on Saturday, July 2.
In keeping with the agreement he will notify Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, 60 days before the date, and will cable the announcement to Carpenter.
The site selected for the big bout will not be announced.
"I am asking the principals for an extension of time, about 20 days, in which to reach a decision. I must choose between several good places in mind," Rickard told the United Press Monday.
Rickard, who had been confined to his home with an attack of stomach trouble, was at his office in Madison Square Garden this morning.
"I hope to arrange a meeting with the lawyers and get the contest transferred to me Tuesday," he said.
"I have a letter now from Charles F. Corcoran, assuring me that he wants to withdraw his interests. I am not sure of Brady's attitude but he was the first to seek a release."
Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, said the date was satisfactory.
That Carpenter would approve of the date was the opinion expressed by Gus Wilson, his trainer and interpreter.
There is little doubt along Broadway that the contest will be held on this side of the water.

KUBITZ DEVELOPS GOOD HEADLOCK

Some Indiana Man Is Liable to Have a Headache Next Friday Night.

David threw a stone at Goliath with disastrous results to the giant, according to an old biblical story, and the Lawrence wrestlers hope to pull the same stunt on the Indiana wrestlers when the intercollegiate champions meet the Blue and White grapplers in the armory, March 4. This does not mean that the Lawrence men intend to use weapons with which to win but if the hard training of the past month will count for anything the Blue and White team should give the Hoosiers a hard run for their money.
George Hill's work with Kubitz in teaching the Lawrence all-around athlete the inside dope on the head lock is beginning to have effect, so much so in fact that several of the other members of the team will allow him to use them for his practice. Kubitz therefore has adopted the unique method of practicing on a basketball and to date one basketball bladder has been sent to the repair shop. Now that the basketball season is finished, Kubitz devotes all of his time to the wrestling game and the improvement in his style is becoming very noticeable.

Handless Cue Wonder Makes New High Run

Handless George H. Sutton is out to set as high a run at 15.3 ballline bill as he can get. He did unofficially. Sutton set a new unofficial record of 789 points in a single inning Feb. 17 at New York.
The run took three hours to make. This tops the recent high exhibition record of 701 points made by Edouard Horemans, visiting Belgian and chief challenger for Willie Hoppe's cue throne.

Check-Nursing

In his record match Sutton got the balls in the old chuck-nurse position after scoring 200 points.
From then on with one ball anchored to the rail and the other one across the ballline just outside the box, he kept bouncing the cue ball off the rail ball, feather touching the other ball so it didn't move.
Two points from the 500 mark Sutton broke the chuck-nurse combination. He intended to stop on 800 and leave a good final shot. He missed and stopped on 399.

Unbearable Strain

"The strain on my eyes grew almost unbearable," says Sutton.
"I had to stop and close them after every 25 points."
"Some day I'll get that combination in a championship match and put a new mark in the billiard record book."
"Confidence in self is the greatest asset of a billiard player."
"For every position of the balls on the table there is a correct way to play them."

I lost both forearms in a machine accident when I was 8.

"But I couldn't give up. I studied medicine at Milwaukee. It was there I first began playing."
"After finishing my medical education I was in debt."
"Then I turned to billiards to make money. It's my whole life now."
Never-Say-Die
"My handicap only made me more determined."
"If I had not lost my hands, I wouldn't have become a great player."

There would have been too many other things I could and would have done. "People call me the handless wonder."
"I'm handless but not wonderful. No billiard player is. He's just made himself a great player by constant practice."
"And anyone can do that."

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.
These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.
If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.
Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful salubrious for colonel—now and then just to keep them fit.

HORTONVILLE WINS GIRLS TOURNAMENT

Permanent Basketball Association Results from Tourney at Seymour.

First place in the Northeastern Wisconsin girls basketball tournament last Friday and Saturday at Seymour was won by the Hortonville high school girls team. Kaukauna girls won second place and Shiocton received third place. In a separate series of games, East Green Day girls won first place in basketball according to girls rules. Seymour received second place and Marion won third place.

Following the tournament a meeting was held at which the Northeastern Wisconsin Girls Basketball association was formed with Principal H. P. Nelson of Hortonville high school as president. Mr. Armpholz was elected vice president, the Rev. Harry Milford of Seymour, secretary, Miss Margaret Carey, treasurer. Two court girls basketball rules were adopted for next year's tournament.

In the first series of games Hortonville defeated Shiocton by a score of 7 to 4, and won from Kaukauna by a score of 21 to 1. Kaukauna won by a score of 6 to 5 from the Shiocton girls team. In girls rules basketball, East Green Day girls won from Seymour by a score of 19 to 12. Seymour stepped into second place by defeating Marion 30 to 9.

A boys game between Seymour high school and Hortonville high school resulted in a victory for Seymour by 19 to 12 score. The boys game followed the tournament and it was not a part of the event. In the second half the Seymour boys did little except stall for time, but in the first half the game was fast and exciting.

LAWRENCE LOSES TO CARROLL TEAM

Local Cagers Forced Out of Running for Conference Title.

Lawrence college was sent out of the running for state intercollegiate basketball championship when Carroll college shipped over a 21 to 16 victory at Waukesha Saturday night. The defeat was a surprise for both Lawrence and Carroll inasmuch as Lawrence had once defeated the Presbyterians and was considered among the strongest teams in the conference. Carroll was strengthened by the addition of Christiansen, a big center, who did not play with the college squad earlier in the season. The Yellow team is expected to give Ripon a real battle when they clash on the Ripon floor next Friday night.
The defeat puts Lawrence in second place in the conference.
Coach McChesney will start training for track work within the next two weeks, trying out his men indoors. He expects to have as good a track team as will be found in the state.
Spring football practice will be started as soon as the frost is out of the ground. The coach wants to teach his men several tricks this spring so they will get an early start next fall.

NO CHANCE FOR LIL ARTHA TO COME BACK

Fight Promoters and Commissioners Don't Want to Book Former Champ.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—From his cell in Leavenworth prison, Jack London is planning a return to the ring.

It was for this renewal of his old time means of livelihood that John gave up his liberty in foreign countries, and returned to serve the prison sentence that caused him to become an exile.

Tom O'Rourke says that his big boy, Fred Fulton, has been matched to fight Johnson in Havana this summer.

There is little doubt that the National Boxing association, the guiding body of the sport in 17 states, will close the doors to Johnson.

The matter of Jack Johnson's return to the ring has not been submitted to the association. We have not given the subject much thought as Johnson will not be released for some time. W. H. Lagrange, president of the association, told the United Press Saturday.

New York and Massachusetts do not belong to the association.
"Until Johnson applies for a license we are not authorized to comment on the subject. However, let it be understood that we are guided in all matters only by the desire to keep the sport clean and protect the public," one of the New York commissioners said Saturday.

"We don't want any of the big fighters in this state. We are trying to promote sport on a sound and progressive basis and we feel the big fellows would hurt the game. That holds for all. We have not taken up the Johnson case," the Massachusetts commission said.

Tex Rickard is decidedly off any match in which Johnson is a principal, he said Saturday.

The International Sporting club which has declared itself against the color line and which promoted the Harry Wills-Fred Fulton bout, has also a hands off policy on Johnson.

U. S. FOREIGN BUSINESS DROPS OFF IN JANUARY

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—United States exports and imports both decreased for January this year compared with January, 1920, the department of commerce announced Friday.
Imports for January were $209,000,000 compared with $268,000,000 for December, 1920, and $474,000,000 for January, 1920. The January import total this year is the smallest for any month since February, 1918. Exports for January, 1921, were $455,000,000 compared with $721,000,000 for December, 1920, and $722,000,000 for January, 1920.

The excess of exports over imports for January this year was $446,000,000 compared with $248,000,000 for January, 1920.

40 LIVES LOST IN CRASH OF TRAINS

gan City. Four rescue and wrecking trains arrived shortly after 8 p. m. and began clearing away the debris.

Father De Ville, of Gary, Ind., led the rescue party until the physicians and nurses arrived.

Frances Kennedy, vandeville star, whose nose was broken when she crashed against the side of a car when the crash came, described the work of the priest.

Three persons were killed under the wreckage and dying from scalds," she said.

"Their screaming and shrieking was terrible. I started to crawl in and try to help them but some man pulled me back. We realized there was nothing we could do but pray for a quick ending of their agony."

"Father De Ville crawled into the steaming and smoking debris and comforted them until finally their cries were stilled by death."

Fire Breaks Out

Fire broke out early from the wreck. The volunteer fire department of Porter strung a hose several blocks and soon had the flames under control.

The rescuers were working only by the glow of the fire from the engine boxes. Only a few lanterns were found on either train and there was practically no rescue equipment. A few axes and two stretchers were all that could be found to aid in the rescue work.

Most of the bodies were taken to Chesterton, while others were removed to La Porte, Michigan City, Gibson and other nearby points in autos. Six bodies were taken from under the engine of the New York Central train.

Only a few were injured in the crash. Practically all in the two day coaches were killed outright.

Mrs. L. E. Pittner of Racine, Wis., wife of the purchasing agent of the N. M. Boyd company, passenger of the New York Central train, suffered a sprained knee when she was thrown across a table.

"When the smash occurred my wife and I were in the parlor car," said Pittner Monday in describing the tragedy.

"My wife was dashed across the table and when I realized what had happened I found her on my lap."

"We rode fully 400 feet before the train was brought to a stop after the accident."

"I pulled three victims out of the debris and it was the most horrible sight I ever have seen."

Women Are Heroic

The conduct of the women who assisted in the rescue work was praised highly by the men.

Captain E. C. Fleming of the Third artillery, a passenger on the New York Central train, told of girls tearing up their petticoats and other garments to make bandages for the wounded.

"One girl, who told me she was a Red Cross nurse overseas, tore the silk girdle which she was wearing into strips for bandages. There wasn't any screaming or fainting among the uninjured women."

Inability to get physicians to the scene of the wreck until nearly two hours after it occurred, hindered the first aid work.

There are no physicians in Porter. The two who reside in Chesterton were away from home. Automobiles scoured the country for miles before the physicians were finally located.

Edward W. Fierke, Grand Rapids, Mich., who was on the Michigan Central train, gave a graphic story of the experiences of the passengers in the day coaches.

He was standing on the platform of the day coach, smoking, when he saw the onrushing engine headed straight for him.

"I couldn't move," he said.

"My tongue stuck to the roof of my mouth. I tried to open the door of the coach to shout to the people inside but my hand refused to function. It was about ten seconds from the time I first saw the train until it hit. I thought it was ten years."

"Everything I had ever done flashed before me—a cold sweat broke out all over my body. The light from the headlight of the oncoming engine made everything as bright as day. I thought sure I would be killed."

"Other passengers saw the train. A woman jumped to her feet and hugged a little girl to her breast."

"The lights went out and the side of our car buckled in. I saw the nose of the engine plow through the wall of the car—and I heard a scream of mingled fear and pain that I will never forget."

"I was thrown nearly fifty feet and was stunned for a minute. When I sat up, the whole middle of our train was gone. The staring eyes of a man, apparently dead, were gazing directly into mine."

"I got onto my knees and said a prayer of thanksgiving that I had been spared."

Wrecker Is Detailed

La Porte, Ind.—One of the wrecking trains speeding to the scene of the New York Central-Michigan Central wreck at Porter, was detailed between Gibson and that junction point Sunday night, railroad officials declared.

The train was made up in the yards at Gibson and was not put back on the rails until hours afterwards.

Gibson is four miles from Indiana Harbor.

The most important relief train sped to the scene from Elkhart, sixty miles from the wreck. This train carried ten physicians and eight nurses. Elkhart is the division point between Chicago and Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heling have disposed of their farm in Door county and expect to reside here. They are staying at the home of Louis Pottier. Mrs. Heling was formerly Miss Meta Lens of this city.

Daniel Quigley has resigned his position with Runkle and Court, and plans to open a shoe metal shop in Appleton. April 2.

6 SINN FEINERS EXECUTED AFTER MILITARY TRIAL

One Man Is Put to Death Because He Owned Revolver. Face Murder Charge.

By United Press Leased Wire
Cork—Six Sinn Feiners were executed by a British firing squad at the military barracks here Monday. The men were sentenced by a court-martial, five being charged with complicity in a proposed ambush, the other with possessing a revolver.

Charged With Murder

Dublin—A British major, a captain and a number of "black and tan" police have been arrested on charges of murdering Sinn Feiners, republican officials announced Monday.

The men were said to be accused of murdering two Sinn Feiners who had been cleared of charges of participating in an ambush.

The two Sinn Feiners, Murphy and Kennedy, according to these reports were taken to Dublin castle for examination. Found not guilty and ordered released.

Major King, commanding a detachment of black and tans and Captain Hardy, intelligence officer, were said to have taken the two to the scene of the recent Drumcondra ambush, backed them up against a wall and ordered the shot.

The same sources declared 48 black and tans had been arrested, charged with looting and other offenses, including the seizure of quantities of champagne.

The wine was said to have been intended by the police as a gift to Lord Lieutenant French, the men intending to deliver it at the vice regal lodge.

UNION ACTORS PREPARE FOR NEW "LABOR WAR"

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Another "labor war" in the theatrical world may be the outcome of the Actors' Equity association vote on the "closed shop" issue, which closes tonight.

While the result of the referendum will not be announced before next Sunday, officials of the association were confident the members will have expressed themselves overwhelmingly in favor of an "equity shop" as they prefer to call it.

The issue to be decided in the word of Frank Gilmore, executive secretary, is: "Shall we go on as at present, taking part in performances with non-equity members, or shall we refuse to work with them and insist that all companies in which we appear be solid equity?"

In case the members vote for the "closed shop," the next step will be decided at a special meeting here Sunday. Gilmore indicated that action to be taken would be to inform the "independent managers" next season that all personnel of their companies must be equity members or all nonmembers.

DRY WIND FROM BOSTON SOAKS UP BROADWAY RUM

New York—There was gloom along Broadway Monday.

Dread and suspicion have entered the gilded cabarets and cozy back rooms since 46 prohibition agents from Boston invaded Manhattan and began the painful process of separating Father Knickerbocker from his fire water.

Open sale of liquor has been discontinued and even the oldest and most trusted customers are having a hard time to get their favorite head waiters and bartenders to uncork the little brown bottle.

ST. PAUL CHURCH HONORS BIRTHDAY

Visiting Pastors Preach at Fourteenth Anniversary Services Sunday.

There was a record attendance at both the morning and afternoon services in St. Paul church Sunday in commemoration of the fourteenth anniversary of the dedication. The congregation included people from several nearby towns. Trinity Lutheran church, Kaukauna, suspended services so its members could attend the Appleton gathering.

The Rev. Paul Oehlert, Kaukauna, delivered the German sermon at 10:15 in the morning. English services were conducted in the afternoon by the Rev. Max Hensel, Shiocton. Special music was rendered by Concordia choir directed by Prof. Ernest Schults. Dinner and supper were served in the school dining hall by ladies of the church.

KAUKAUNA BANK BUYS PROPERTY FOR NEW HOME

The First National bank at Kaukauna, which has occupied the Central block for several years, has just purchased from Laura Mill Kowalek, Emma Mill Knoll and Otto, Robert and Adolph Mill lots 27 and 28 block 6, located just north of the Central block, in Kaukauna for a consideration of $9,500. The building includes the former postoffice building and shoe store owned by Barney Verfuert. The bank was compelled to seek new quarters because the Central block was sold by John Stevens of Appleton to the Farmers and Merchants bank of that city.

FREIGHT AGENTS MEET HERE TO REDUCE CLAIMS

The Freight Claim Prevention bureau of the Northern Wisconsin division of the Chicago & Northwestern Co. will hold an all day session at the Sherman house Tuesday. Officials from the company's headquarters and division headquarters will take part in the discussions. The meetings of the bureau are held for the purpose of reducing freight claims to a minimum. Station agents W. B. Basing of Appleton and F. E. Langer of Fond du Lac are members of the bureau. The meeting will be attended by railroad men from the entire division.

BUSINESS VERY POOR IN INDIANA CITIES

"The paper mill and all big manufacturing plants are closed down," said Mrs. S. N. Fish who returned Saturday from Elkhart, Ind., where she has been visiting her son for the last two weeks. "The railroad shops are also shut down and several restaurants closed their doors within the last few weeks," said Mrs. Fish. Mr. Fish holds a position in the paper mill and runs a rooming house in connection. Conditions in Elkhart are much worse than in Appleton.

ATTENDS LUTHERAN AID MEETING IN MILWAUKEE

Louis Freude spent Saturday in Milwaukee, where he attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Wisconsin Federation of the Aid Association for Lutherans. Mr. Freude is secretary of the state body. Preliminary plans were discussed for the annual convention in Milwaukee next June. Committees were appointed and the nature of the program decided upon. Prominent speakers are to be engaged.

Miss Marie Goetz and Miss Agnes Steidl spent the weekend with friends in Kaukauna.

KAUKAUNA

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL APPEAR IN TWO RECITALS

Kaukauna—Arrangements are being made for recitals to be given by the students of Sister Gabriel, teacher of music in St. Mary school. The recitals will be held in St. Mary church auditorium on the Friday and Sunday after Easter.

One hundred and twelve students will take part in the program. Friday evening's recital will probably consist of 30 numbers and Sunday evening's program will include 15 selections, consisting of choruses, marches, duets, solos, vocal and instrumental.

Birthday Party

Miss Evelyn Jahrlus entertained 20 friends at her home Saturday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in social entertainment after which refreshments were served.

Skating Party

About 20 persons attended a skating party Friday evening on the government canal between the fourth and fifth locks. Lunch was served by the young ladies of the group.

Meeting of Teachers

A general meeting of Park and Nicolett school teachers was held here last Wednesday in Nicolett school building. Educational topics were discussed.

A. H. C. Meeting

The A. H. C. meeting of the Reformed church Sunday school met Wednesday night at the home of the teacher, J. J. Haass. A business session was held and a social time followed. Lunch was served.

Character Party

Mrs. Charles Buerth entertained members of her vocational sewing class and friends at a character party Friday evening at her home in honor of her birthday anniversary. After an evening of social entertainment lunch was served. About 20 guests were present.

The honor of having the second best girls basketball team in Northwestern Wisconsin goes to the Kaukauna high school. A tournament in which 10 high school girls teams were represented was held at Seymour Friday and Saturday of last week. For-tonville won first place in the tournament by boys' rules basketball and Green Bay won first place in girls rules playing.

The Northeastern Wisconsin Girls basketball association was formed and Principal H. P. Nelson of Hortonville high school was elected president; the Rev. Harry Milford of Seymour, secretary, and Miss Margaret Carey of Seymour, treasurer. Two court girls rules were adopted for next year's tournament.

LEGION CAMPAIGN OPENS WITH PARADE

tory covered by evening. Results will be checked up at a dinner at 6 o'clock Monday evening in Elk hall, for workers, served by members of the Women's Auxiliary of the legion. Reports are to be turned in to Edgar Schommer, campaign chairman, before the dinner starts so the figures can be tabulated and the total announced.

There were busy scenes at the headquarters last Monday. Former service men were coming in a continual stream, either paying up their dues for 1921 or becoming a member for the first time. Many said they had always intended to join, but never got to it until the tent proved a convenient place to enrol. Workers will be stationed in the headquarters until 10 o'clock Monday evening, and Tuesday until noon. Applications after that time are to be received by William Zinske, treasurer, at the Continental clothing store, or by L. Hugo Keller, adjutant, whose office is above the same store.

All veterans of the World war, whether soldiers, sailors or marines are expected to enrol. The membership fee is $2.50, which includes dues to the state and national legion organizations and a subscription to the American Legion Weekly. A supply of legion lapel buttons arrived Monday morning for distribution.

Cooperation by business men has helped to make the campaign a success. Several firms have offered advertising space and other forms of publicity. A picture of Oney Johnston, deceased hero after whom the post is named, is in the window of Matt Schmidt and Son clothing store.

MUST HUSTLE OR SNOW WILL BE GONE AGAIN

By way of fulfillment of his promise, Mayor J. A. Hawes wired Irving Grant Thalberg of Chicago, general manager of Universal Film Manufacturing Co., Monday morning that Appleton had been visited by a snow storm and that it he wanted to take photographs for the motion picture of "Fanny Herself" by Edna Ferber he had better send his photographer at once.
